OPINIONS OF OTHER EDITORS.

STRANGELY SIGNIFICANT.

Delaware Gazette.

For the twenty-second time the non-partisan Grand Army has elected a Republican chief. "It merely happens so," they say.

EVEN THE REPUBLICAN PAPERS KICK.

New Orleans States.

Foraker's story about being snubbed by Mrs. Cleveland has disgusted even the Republican papers. They declare that they have had enough of it.

MAKING MANY FRIENDS.

Port Jervis Evening Gazette.

The President is making a most favorable impression all along the line of the western trip, and it is safe to predict that the western delegation will be solid for his re-nomination in 1888.

FULFILLED EXPECTATION.

Buffalo Courier.

The Democratic State Convention has fulfilled the expectations of its constituents. It has adopted sound platform and nominated one of the best and strongest tickets ever submitted to the voters of the State.

THE SORT OF FIGHT WHICH WINS.

St. Louis Republican.

Both in Massachusetts and Ohio Democrats are making a fight to win squarely on Democratic principles without shuffling or evasion. In ninety-nine out of a hundred this kind of a fight to win means a winning fight.

TRICKY REPUBLICANS.

Schenectady Evening Star.

It is very queer to hear Republicans denounce Democrats free as traders, while at the same time the Republicans abroad are helping with all their might the George combine that is opposed to all tariff duties.

AND ECHO ANSWERED "PANIC."

Galveston News.

It may be worth nothing that Mr. Blaine recently said that nothing but a money panic would spoil Cleveland's chance for a re-election. The next day this remark was printed the New York Tribune began to cry panic. It has kept up the cry ever since.

PLAIN SPEECH OF NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Washington Post.

Upon the question of the surplus and the tariff no convention of any party in any State has been so clear and decided as that of the New York Democrats and other Democrats have expressed their opinions in general terms, but nobody outside the convention of New York Democrats has so settled down to the facts of the case and given us an idea of the ways in which reform is necessary.

BLAINE.

New York Star.

Some of the friends of Blaine are endeavoring to introduce prohibition as a national issue, notwithstanding the attitude asserted by their candidate not long ago when it served his purpose to treat it as a purely local question. But if any political capital is to be made by shifting his ground, the inconsistency will not in the least affect the course of the Maine politician.

THE UNITED DEMOCRACY.

Quebec Palladium.

The Democracy has not in many years been so thoroughly united as now. Tammany Hall and the County Democracy, the two great organizations of New York City which have heretofore been at war, are now thoroughly united. The President and the Governor are in hearty accord, and there is a manifest determination to hold New York firmly in the Democratic column for the next year.

JACOB SHARP.

New York Star.

The law and the lawyers are about through with Mr. Jacob Sharp, and the broken down old man is now handed over to the doctors, who will determine if he has enough life left to serve the State in Sing Sing. The ferocity with which the press has pursued the crime of bribe-giving can safely be abated now, in the face of this awful example that hovers between the cell and the grave.

GEORGE WOULD SUBSTITUTE CHINESE.

Schenectady Star.

Three million women in the United States work for money. Of these 600,000 are agricultural laborers, mainly in the cotton fields of the South, 640,000 are employed in the laundries of the country, and the "Chinese must go"; 250,000 are milliners, and 200,000 find employment as dressmakers; 60,000 earn their bread in tailor shops and 690,000 are saleswomen, teachers, telegraph operators, type writers, bookkeepers, type setters and nurses. There are 2,500 female physicians.

HOW COLONEL GRANT SHOULD RISE.

New York Register.

Hereditary government was abolished in this country one hundred years ago, and the father of Colonel Fred Grant achieved a great name by leading to victory the mighty armies of the North who were fighting for the freedom of an enslaved people, but he left no claim upon future generations but that of admiration and gratitude for the greatness and patriotism of his genius. Colonel Grant's claim for the office of Secretary of State should be based upon Colonel Grant's fitness for the position, and not upon his father's fitness to command a mighty army. As General Grant rose to high places so should his son, by the ability which rests within himself and not in another.

NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

The Baltic cotton mill, Connecticut, burned. Loss, $1,250,000.

Pulaski, Tennessee, had a $50,000 fire on Saturday, originating in a lively stable.

The French steamship Britannia arrived at New York Wednesday, having on board four cases of cholera.

A bronze equestrian statue of Gen. George C. Meade was unveiled in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, Wednesday.

At a recent fire in Hankow, China, one thousand lives were lost and property valued at $3,000,000 destroyed.

Miss Carrie Worthington, daughter of Congressman Worthington, of Illinois, fell from a steamer at Peoria and was drowned.

Timothy Brothers, dealers in dry goods and boots and shoes, Nashville, made an assignment, the liabilities being $201,000.

The Shakespeare memorial fountain, presented to the town of Stratford-on-Avon by Mr. George W. Childs, was dedicated last week.

Mrs. Annie Lachs, who threw a pancake at Mrs. Cleveland while the presidential party was in the fair grounds at St. Louis, was fined $50 in the Police Court.

The Sprague Cotton Mills at Baltic, Conn., burned Friday. Loss one and a half million dollars. Nine hundred hands are out of employment. Insurance, $275,000.

There are now registered in the general office at Plainfield, N. J., nearly 2,100 local circles of the C. L. S. C. The aggregate membership of the several classes is over 100,000.

A convention of representatives of the various agricultural colleges and experiment stations of the several States met in the library of the Department of Agriculture at Washington Wednesday.

A feature of the Grand Lodge now in session in this city is the presence of Mr. Collins Fitch, the oldest Mason in Kentucky. Mr. Fitch has been a member of the order sixty-seven years.—Courier-Journal.

Of the seven desperadoes who robbed and murdered Rev. W. Ryan, Roane county, W. Va., last Thursday night, three have been effectually disposed of by the citizens, and the others will go the same way when caught.

Rev. R. DeBaptiste, Secretary of Colored Baptist National Convention, reports 26 colleges, 36 papers, 1,155,486 members; church property $3,057,571, contributions to educational and religious work, $301,798.14.

The manuscript of the original ordinance of secession issued by the State of Virginia has been sold by Mrs. Charles Bullis, of Worthington, Minn., in whose possession it was, to George H. Trade-well, of the G. A. R., for $1,000.

On an island in the Pacific ocean where mail is received but once a year, three missionaries are taking the C. L. S. C. course. They have persevered for three years in spite of the delays in receiving books and examination papers, and expect to graduate in 1888.

A ghastly discovery was that of Capt. Lawson, of the schooner Herman, of Balston, Gloucester, Mass. While fishing off the Grand Banks, Newfoundland, September 30, he fell in with a French sloop water-logged. On boarding her, he found the bodies of ten men, who had evidently been drowned in the cabin.

John Jenkins is to be tried during the present term of the Franklin Circuit Court for the murder of James Daily in 1883. He has had several trials—in the first there was a hung jury—in the second he was found guilty and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, and secured a reversal from the Court of Appeals; in his third he got a life sentence and a second reversal, and now he faces the music for a fourth time.

Somebody thinks he has discovered a Confederate flag among Atlanta's decorations in honor of President Cleveland. Perhaps it is the same Scotch-Canadian correspondent who is following the President over the country, and who telegraphed to his paper in Chicago that a Confederate flag was displayed in Memphis, but who was compelled to correct his dispatch the next day and acknowledge that it was an old Colonial flag. It isn't everybody who would know a Confederate flag nowadays if he were to see one.—Courier-Journal.

A New York telegram says: Miss Frances Isabel Morris, only daughter of Mr. John A. Morris, proprietor of the Louisiana Lottery, was married at noon to-day in the West Presbyterian church, in Forty-second street, to Mr. Thurlow Weed Barnes, a grandson of the late Thurlow Weed. Owing to the illness of the bride's grandmother, the ceremony was performed in this city instead of at Mr. Morris' country place in Westchester. The Rev. Dr. B. M. Palmer, of New Orleans, performed the ceremony. Among those in the church were Generals William T. Sherman, Beauregard, Homes and Hood, of New Orleans; Mr. A. Hennen, of Kentucky, uncle of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lorillard. Miss Morris was born in New Orleans about twenty-two years ago. She has dark hair and is a beautiful woman. Her presents were many and costly. The employees in her father's office in New Orleans sent a chest containing a solid silver dinner service. From her father she received a check for $10,000 and a handsomely furnished residence at Bar Harbor.

ELDER GANO.

Elder John Allen Gano died at his residence near Centerville, Bourbon county, aged eighty-two years. He was one of the pioneer preachers of the Christian Church in this State, and assisted Barton W. Stone and others in the great revivals at Cane Ridge.

Elder Gano was one of the founders of the Reformed, or Christian Church, which began its existence at Cane Ridge, nearly sixty years ago, and now has a membership of more than a million in the United States. He was a co-worker with Barton W. Stone, Alexander Campbell and other noted divines. He was one of the most powerful speakers and revivalists in his day that the State has ever known, and his loss will be mourned in nearly every household in the country.

Elder Gano was born in Georgetown, Scott county, Ky., July 14, 1805, and October 2, 1827, married Miss Catharine Conn, the only daughter of Capt. William Conn, of Bourbon county, who survives him. By their union they were blessed with nine children, among whom is Gen. R. M. Gano, of Dallas Texas, who is also a minister of the Christian Church.

The deceased for the past thirty years has been connected with the ministry, only having been pastor of two churches in Bourbon county, to each of which he has preached consecutively during his entire ministry.

Gov. Buckner has appointed as delegates to the Centennial Exposition of the Ohio Valley and Central States, to be held in Cincinnati July, 1888, Messrs. John R. Procter, Thomas E. Moss, John F. Hagar, Matt Walton, M. J. King, Robt. C. Hemmings, Frank P. Helm and Young E. Allison.

WHITE-OAK TIMBER.

Among the valuable resources of Kentucky her white-oak timber is not the least by any means. Indeed, Kentucky white-oak is becoming as famous abroad as Kentucky stock or Kentucky whisky. And in quantity it is equal to that of any State in the Union, according to number of square miles. Millions of dollars worth of white-oak timber from Kentucky is annually shipped across the ocean, mostly in slaves, though to some extent in other forms. Louisville is the great center of this white-oak lumber market—the "base of operations," as it were. A number of firms here handle this class of lumber extensively and exclusively, and ship immense amounts every year. The business, too, is increasing, and has grown wonderfully in the last decade, doubling, perhaps, in the last five years.

WYTHE AT CHAUTAUQU.

The Jamestown (N. Y.) Journal says: The Rev. Dr. Wythe, one of the principal figures in the early history of Chautauqua, has been assigned to the Chautauqua cause by the M. E. conference. He will be the resident clergyman, and in addition thereto will have charge of the models of Jerusalem and the Holy Land, which are sadly in need of expert attention. He will also be engaged in the art departments of the Chautauqua university. Dr. Wythe is pleased at returning to Chautauqua and is sure to be a very valuable aid in maintaining and advancing the great institution.

THE GRAVE ON THE MOUNTAIN.

We extract the following from the Kennewas Gazette, published at Atlanta, Ga.: DALTON, GA., Sept. 14th, 1887. Editor Kennewas Gazette.

DEAR SIR:—The old fort on top of the mountain to the left of the W. & A. R. R., going north, through Mill Creek Gap, is in a fine state of preservation. Near the fort are several Confederate graves. On one the following inscription now plainly appears in red printed letters on a hard board: "GEORGE DISEY, Co. K, 4th Ky. Inf., C. S. A. Killed at Rocky Face, May 9th, 1864." It is possible, if published in your paper, that this item may reach some of his friends. Respectfully, F. T. HARDWICK.

Gov. Buckner has refused to grant a pardon to George C. Buchanan, formerly of Louisville, but now a resident in Canada. Buchanan is under six indictments, in the Jefferson Circuit Court, for violation of the laws in relation to warehouse receipts. The Governor refuses to pardon him in advance of a trial and conviction by a court of competent jurisdiction, because "it is only in exceptional cases that this extraordinary power of the Executive should be exercised before the courts shall have had an opportunity of deciding upon the guilt or innocence of an accused party." He declines to grant a pardon because the accused has placed himself beyond the reach, both of the courts and of the Executive, and defeated all legitimate interference by persisting in his absence. To exercise the power under such circumstances would be to defeat the ends of justice.

A Long Island man dug a grave near a pathway on his farm, and when he buried his body. When he dug the grave he was shot, but only wounded. He had the man put in jail.

Rev. Mr. Candler preached a sermon in Nashville, against theatres and those who attend them. At the close, Emma Abbott, the famous actress, who was in the audience arose and delivered a ringing rebuke to the pastor, defending her profession.

The first game for the baseball championship of the world was played at St. Louis Friday by the club of that city, champions of the Association, and the Detroit, champions of the League, 13,000 spectators being present. St. Louis won by a score of 6 to 1.

A Chicago Telegram says: The capital of the Pullman Palace Car Company, already at the enormous total of $19,000,000, was to-day increased 25 per cent, making the aggregate amount in round numbers nearly $20,000,000. This action was taken at the annual meeting of the company which was held here to-day. Between eleven and twelve million dollars of the capital stock was represented. Examination of the financial statement showed the surplus for the year to be $1,536,884. The increase of stock was recommended by President Geo. M. Pullman, who stated it to be for the purpose of "providing the capital required to meet the cost of additional equipment and for further extension in the near future."

THE CLIMAX.

FRENCH TIPTON, Wm. G. WHITE.
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1887.

The Minneapolis Tribune has apologized for the insult offered Mrs. Cleveland.

People who are afraid of "cold snaps" will be gratified to learn that a signal service officer is to be stationed at St. Paul for the purpose of keeping a lookout for "cold waves" and reporting them.

The President has returned to Washington from his tour of the West and South. He won the people wherever he went. In no place was he more royally received than in St. Louis, and no man in that city was more prominent in the demonstrations than Mayor David Rowland Francis. Mr. Francis is going to be Governor of Missouri.

The national convention of the Knights of Labor, after a two weeks' session in Minneapolis, adjourned on last Wednesday to meet next year in Indianapolis. The most noteworthy feature of the meeting was the prompt and thorough manner in which the Anarchist element was crushed. The perilous position of the seven condemned Anarchists in Chicago made the Anarchist element more cautious. They need all the aid and sympathy they can summon, and in the national assembly of Knights steered clear of any complicity with the Anarchists. The Knights have concluded that the most proper thing for them to do would be to resort to reason at all times—not force. Contracts, well observed, are to form the basis of most of their operations. Strikes, boycotts, disturbing of laborers who wish to work, and other heretofore recognized modes of procedure are no longer to be countenanced. They have struck the proper principle, and the organization will be of lasting good to the working men.

THE GENTLEMAN FROM PENNSYLVANIA.

Hon. William D. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, the noted high-tariff politician, who has acquired the rather rugged sobriquet of "Pig Iron," made Winchester a visit on his return from Louisville, and, judging from what we hear on the outside, found in the young embryo Pittsburg, over the way, too many ready listeners to his pet theory. The Sun says of his visit:

"Judge W. D. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, was met at the depot by Mayor John E. Garner and Hon. T. G. Stuart, these gentlemen having been selected as a reception committee at a meeting of citizens at Judge Becker's office on the same afternoon. The Judge was taken to the Rees House, where the best apartments had been reserved for them. Several citizens called in the evening to make the acquaintance of the distinguished visitor. On Thursday morning he was taken a drive out to see Renick's Shorthorns. In the evening a most elegant treat was given by Judge and Mrs. Becker at their elegant suburban home. A large and representative audience greeted the Judge at the Hall and his sledge-hammer arguments were greeted with rounds of applause. After the close of the Judge's speech, Gen. John S. Williams made an appropriate talk that was heartily received. Friday at 11:30 the Judge and wife lunched with Mr. and Mrs. Mayor Garner and took the 1 o'clock train for the east."

Richmond was remembered in the persons of a chosen few, who were invited over to meet the distinguished guest, but owing to various causes there were no responses in person. The telegram of invitation was as follows:

"To French Tipton, Richmond, Ky.
You, Governor McCreary, Senator Bennett, Senator Harris, Stone Walker, Major Burnam, J. R. Burnam and C. D. Chennault are invited to hear Judge Kelley speak at the Opera House to-night."
[Signed, The Committee.]

You can already see Winchester adjusting her little wings for a high-tariff flight, provided that road is built to the mountains. It is always thus. General Hancock was right when he proclaimed, during the presidential canvass, that the tariff question was a local issue. Wherever you find iron, factories, rice, or sugar, you find the high-tariff idea.

Soon as Richmond gets her road to the mountains, and foundaries, forges, factories, and similar institutions begin to grow in and around Richmond, the high-tariff idea will inaugurate a little boom.

Mr. Kelley was delighted with Kentucky as a place of residence and as a locality for paying investments. "I believe," said he, "that in the next decade there will be an influx of population, capital, and industry to Kentucky such as no State in the Union has seen at any one time except during the discovery of gold in California. Within two or three years you will have railroad lines constructed that will put Kentucky fairly on the highway of the lines of emigration, and, with the marvelous natural resources of the State and its extraordinary agricultural advantages, it is destined to support an enormous population and to develop faster than any other Western or Southern State. The fact is the people of the East have ordinarily no idea of the enlightenment, prosperity and wealth of Kentucky. I have seen no country in the world where the farms are finer, the home comforts more plentiful and the people more highly cultivated than in Kentucky. It has been of the greatest interest and profit to me to make this trip, and I shall never have the impression effaced as long as I live."

CONFLAGRATIONS, WOODEN HOUSES AND CISTERS.

[Communicated.]

There is an old adage which says "Tools only can learn nothing from experience." The question now is are the people and council of Richmond to have this saying truthfully applied to them. We have had within a few years a number of very destructive fires. One destroyed nearly every manufactory in the town, and so crippled financially a number of good citizens that they never recovered. The last fire destroyed sixty thousand ($60,000) dollars worth of property, but fortunately for the town the citizens burned out are able to rebuild. Richmond is naturally through lack of water as badly prepared to fight a fire as any town in Kentucky. Rates of insurance are lower than in almost any of the surrounding cities and towns. Some may say that early full insurance and when a fire comes you are safe; but this is not true. No honest man is made whole by insurance, for several reasons: 1st all first class Insurance Companies wish to carry only about three-fourths of the actual cash value of the property insured. 2nd It costs considerable money to carry full insurance waiting for a fire, and very few citizens are able to do it. 3rd If the property is insured for full value, which ought never to be the case, the owner loses either the use or rent of building until it can be replaced, and suffers necessarily great inconvenience. But let us come to the point at issue. There are certain things we can do which are great safe-guards. We need and should have a number of good fire cisters in the business portion of the town. One or two ought to be made on Main Street above Second. Another at corner Second and Irvine Street. One on Main below First. These improvements would not cost much and would be of great benefit in dry weather, as well as in case of fire. There is plenty of roofing to keep these cisters filled at each point named. Another precaution is to prohibit the erection of any building in any block which may endanger that block, or any part of it, and if such buildings are erected, they ought to be torn away. No man has any right to endanger the property of his neighbor, if he is willing to risk his own. Now there is not a building from the one occupied by J. C. Lyter which has not in its rear a frame structure, and if any of these buildings should catch fire and burn, only the kindness or Providence would save that block, as well as the one opposite. This same complaint can be made in regard to First Street. Nearly every building there has a frame structure in the rear. Richmond has been long noted for her handsome business buildings, and it is the duty of commercial men to take every precaution to preserve them. The cost of these improvements would be trifling, and the money paid in taxes would be saved twice over in paying out insurance premiums and fire losses. Moreover if these suggestions should be acted on, it could not be said of the next fire as it was of the last. It was just as everybody expected. This fire had been predicted for years by all business as well as insurance men, and it originated just where it was looked for.

A statue of Abraham Lincoln has been put in position at the entrance of Lincoln Park, Chicago.
In a speech at Nottingham England, Mr. Gladstone strongly condemned the revival of the phantom of protection in England.
Hector Talbot, son of A. J. Talbot, of Lexington, was accidentally killed by Marlow Brown, son of Marion Brown, while out hunting.
Henry Shafter, aged seventy-four years, killed his wife, aged fifty-six, and then committed suicide, at Pottsville, Pa. They had been married only a year.
Gen. B. F. Butler has been retained as counsel in the Chicago Anarchist cases. He will receive a retainer fee of $1,500 and the modest consideration of $250 a day.
Ella Clements who was injured in the railroad collision at Koutz, Ind., has brought suit for $10,000 damages against the Chicago and Atlantic Railroad Company.
Fifteen thousand visitors were present in Paducah on last Wednesday at a reunion of the "Blue and the Gray." Among the speakers were Thomas E. Moss, G. A. C. Holt, Governor Becker, E. P. Johnson, Sam E. Hill, C. T. Allen, W. J. Stone.
A trial in New York developed the fact that there is an Anarchist club which makes a business of setting fire to houses on commission from owners who desire to obtain insurance money. A member of the club was found guilty of incendiarism.
The Masonic Grand Lodge of Kentucky elected officers as follows: J. Soule Smith, Lexington, Grand Master; James D. Black, Barboursville, Deputy Grand Master; W. V. Clark, Hopkinsville, Grand Senior Warden; Charles H. Fisk, Covington, Grand Junior Warden.
The proposition to subscribe $150,000 to the capital stock of the Paris, Georgetown and Frankfort railroad, now before the voters of Bath county, will, it is reported, be antagonized by a great many of the heaviest tax payers and the Kentucky Central and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads.
The announcement was made at Camp Sheridan Chicago at the close of dress parade, that the first prize of $3,500 in cash and $500 in gold medals had been awarded to the Louisville Legion for the most perfect battalion drill during the encampment.—Louisville Post.
A boy aged 17 years shot five times and instantly killed his stepfather at a church door in Chicago, Sunday morning, in the presence of an assembling congregation. On Sunday night in Jeffersonville, Indiana, a man was called to his door and shot dead. All this was done in the benighted and bloody South.
The new Southern Baptist Theological Seminary building on fifth street, near York, is an imposing structure. It is over half a square in length, is five stories in height and will cost $100,000. It will be open for use in January and there will be nothing of the kind anywhere in the South. The largest portion of the money to build it was raised in New York.—Courier Journal.
The Trustees of the Chautauque University have won, at the County

Court at Mayville, N. Y., the test suit against the boarding-house keepers who declined to pay the ten per cent. tax specified in their leases, and, by mutual agreement between the parties, the case will be carried up, at once, to the Supreme Court of the State of New York and a final and satisfactory settlement reached.

Tax Receiver Kohnhorst has levied upon the furniture and fixtures of the banks doing business in this city, to satisfy claims for city taxes. The banks claim exemption under an act of the Legislature, and will take legal steps to prevent the collection of taxes by sale or otherwise. The Receiver will advertise the property for sale today in order to hasten a judicial settlement of the question.—Courier-Journal.

There are 400 Mormon Bishops in Utah, 1,423 priests, 2,947 teachers, and 6,854 deacons. Salt Lake City is divided into wards of 8 or 9 blocks each, and a Bishop is put in charge of each ward. Under him there are two teachers, whose business it is to learn the employment and income of every resident of the ward and report the same to the Bishop. Then the Bishop collects the tenth of each man's income and turns it over to the church authorities.

Gov. Caleb W. West, of Utah, has made his annual report to the Government. He estimates the population of the territory at 200,000, and the assessed taxable valuation of property at $35,865,835. He states that the movement for Statehood was inaugurated by the leaders of the Mormon people; their representatives alone took part in the deliberations of the convention and only that portion of the people favors and supports it. Politically, the Governor believes that neither the Democratic nor Republican party can lay claim to the support of the Mormons.

Every movement should be encouraged that tends to make our prisons and penitentiaries reformatories in the true sense of the word. One such movement is the introduction of the C. L. S. C. course of reading among the prisoners, most of whom are far from being ignorant or stupid. In the State penitentiary at Canon City, Colorado, there were forty who gave three hours a day to this reading, and two hours of each week were spent in reviewing the work under a competent leader. In the State prison at Boise City, Idaho, over thirty have registered as regular students.

Among the conventions in session in various parts of the country last Wednesday were the Carriage Builders and the Agricultural College men, at Washington; the Foreign Missionary Society of the Disciples of Christ, at Indianapolis; the American Architects, at Chicago; the American Street Railway Association, at Philadelphia; the American Humane Society, at Rochester, N. Y.; the Universalist General Convention, at New York; the Gas Manufacturers, at New York; the Brickmakers, at Chicago, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which is holding its twenty-fourth annual session at Chicago.

In July, 1886, W. H. Spenser, an L. & N. engineer, was killed by the explosion of a boiler in the L. & N. yards at Lexington. It was claimed at the time that the engine that blew up was disabled and should have been retired from business long ago, as dangerous to run. The wife of the dead man sued the road for $25,000 and the case has been pending in the courts for over a year. At one time eleven men of the jury before whom it was tried were for giving the plaintiff $7,000. At last, however, the case has been compromised by the road's paying $3,000 damages. Mrs. Spenser lives on Clay and Washington streets.

THIN COLUMN.

Your attention is called to the fact that the THIN COLUMN is supremely thin this week.

Charles G. Franelyn, of New York, President of the Hosiery Silver Mining Co., is the embodiment of modesty. His accounts are short only six hundred thousand dollars.

The Rev. George L. Locke, Bristol, R. I., said in an essay in Louisville last week that "it is not only the prerogative but the duty of every woman to make the most of herself for the benefit of society." Seems to us we've heard several tirades from the pulpit against society women.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Sept. 9, 1887.
Miss Richmond, Ky.

DEAR FRIEND:—I saw a full-length, life-size, oil painting in the art gallery of the State Fair to-day that was strikingly like you. I was so strongly impressed with the picture, both as a likeness and a work of art, that I proposed to buy it. Upon asking the price, the man quietly replied $8,000. I thrust my fingers into my vest pocket for the money, but the man was cruel enough to inform me that I would have to see ex-Governor Washburne, as the picture belonged to him. I hurried away to the Governor, but he declined to part with the rare treasure, saying that he had purchased it in Italy at the above-named price, and had offered to take that sum but now would not. I expressed my regrets to him, and so came to you.

Now you no doubt think, to use common phrase, that I am "mashed" on you, by offering to give $8,000 for a picture that looks like you, but I beg leave to inform you to the contrary. I expected to sell the picture to Judge Tom Scott for $10,000.

Very Respectfully,

CONCERNING FARMERS.

At the combination sale of trotters at Lexington, 44 sold for $10,945; an average of $248. On Wednesday, 33 sold for $10,515.

Bowman Brothers, of Lexington, have sold to John Madden, of Bethlehem, Pa., Carnival, bay stallion, two years old, by Rummor, dam by Socrates, for $2,000. The same gentleman has bought of St. Louis parties Geneva S., a chestnut mare, four years old, by Mambrino Abdullah, for $1,500.

County Court day at Winchester, last Monday, drew a large crowd. From 1,000 to 1,200 cattle on the market. Best feeders sold at $5.50 to $6.00; fair feeders, $3.25 to $3.50. Scrubs were sold at 1 to 2 cents. Good steer calves, $12 to 15. Most of the stock sold. Little done in mules. General good feeling.

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens die every year from Cholera. It is more fatal to chickens than all other diseases combined. But the discovery of a remedy that positively cures it has been made, and to be convinced of its efficacy only requires a trial. A 50-cent bottle is enough for one hundred chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two-thirds of a bottle, the buyer is not thoroughly satisfied with it as a cure for Cholera, return it to the undersigned and your money will be refunded.

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1887.

See card of the Galt House, the largest and finest hotel in Kentucky.

The morning train North now passes Richmond at 6:20, or 7 minutes earlier than heretofore.

Mr. Thomas H. Hart will begin tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock to sell at auction his entire stock of groceries, queensware, &c.

An eight-inch snow has fallen in the Black Hills, Dakota, and word comes from Louisiana that the mosquitoes are biting like the mischief.

Messrs. G. B. Turley, J. J. Emory, Sant. Oldham, J. S. Boggs, Newland Jones, B. J. Clay, and Elder L. H. Reynolds are fishing on Cumberland River.

Miss Sallie Ellis is now teaching in the Deaf-Mute school at Danville. She had first to learn the sign language, but has accomplished that and is now teaching like a real mute.

Elder Benjamin Lampton, who preached at the Baptist church on Sunday, has gone to Virginia, to be married.

Elder Lampton is up in the sixties and the bride some where along in the thirties.

Messrs. George W. Pickels, Ed. Palmer, L. Schlegel and his brother from Mt. Sterling, returned on Saturday from Cumberland River, in which stream they had successfully toyed with the fishes.

Mr. Peter Gentry and Miss Minnie Todd, daughter of D. Frank Todd, eloped on last Friday night, and up to the hour of going to press had not been heard from, though telegrams for their arrest were sent in every direction.

Miss Martin, who recently returned from West Virginia, says that Miss Mary Curtis, formerly of this place, who was dangerously ill and partially paralyzed, is recovering slowly, and now able to walk about her room.

The large culvert on Second Street, near where the old Dean house stood, has been completed, after several weeks of work and an expenditure of $400. Mr. J. W. Crawford was the contractor, and the work was well done.

A letter from Wichita, Kansas, says that Dr. C. D. Patten, wife and daughter arrived safe in that city. Dr. Patten was for many years a resident and business man in Richmond, and a valuable citizen and pleasant family were last when they removed.

Last Friday was one of the worst days for wind and dust the town ever experienced. The suggestions elsewhere in this issue relative to cisterns ought to be heeded. They would be useful for street sprinkling if for no other purpose.

The stock pens and sheds at Wichita, Kansas, owned in part by Mr. Tilton Emory, Jr., formerly of this place, were burned last week. The loss was covered by insurance. The hotel in which were the offices of Messrs. C. D. Patten and Jason Walker, was not burned.

Mr. Wm. G. White has bought of J. J. Brooks and Dr. G. W. Evans the Madison County Drug Store. This is the drug store on Lexington street near the Garnet house and not J. J. Brooks' store on Main and First streets. Mr. J. C. Hughes who has been in charge of the Madison County Drug Store will take a position with Stockton & Willis.

The Literature and Musical League, composed of a number of young ladies of Lexington, has arranged a series of entertainments for the winter. The first one, a lecture by Wallace Bruce on "Womankind in Shakespeare" will take place on to-morrow evening. A party from this place and one from Winchester will attend. We learn that arrangements have been made with the railroad to return the same day. Mr. Bruce's reputation as a lecturer is second to none on the American continent. He talks because he has something to talk about. His reflections on womanly heroism and grace and power of Shakespeare's female characters cannot fail to interest the large audience that will greet him on this occasion.

Going to Missouri. Eld. Wilson Stivers, an aged minister of this county, has decided to move to Missouri to live. He and his wife were in town Monday arranging their business to that end. Their object is to spend the remainder of their days with their children. This old couple have many friends in this county who will give them up with sorrow, but wish them pleasure and comfort in their new life.

Open Session. The members of the Epiphany Union, Central University, will give an entertainment on Friday night, October 28th, to which the public is invited. Declarations by Mr. Adams and Mr. H. Chennell. Essays by Messrs. S. E. Black and Edgar C. Boggs. Debate—Messrs. Mason and Campbell in the affirmative, Messrs. Miller and Van Lear in the negative. Subject—"The Union must be Perpetuated."

Condolence. The many friends of Hon. W. T. Tevis, of Richmond, sincerely lament the series of calamities which have recently fallen to the share of that most excellent and popular gentleman. Resting under the shadow that befall him a few short months ago in the loss of a lovely wife of scarcely a year's wedding, he is called upon to bear the loss of a splendid boy, ten years old, who lost his life last week by being killed by a runaway horse.—Frankfort Capital.

Opening of Opera House. Mr. John S. Park, formerly Teller in the Madison National Bank, this place, although Cousin of a large banking house in Fort Smith, Ark., has become a liberal patron of the drama, and looms up as manager of the Grand Opera House in the city of his abode. It was opened on October 10th. In the presence of the largest gathering of the kind ever seen in Fort Smith. Mr. Park made the presentation speech, among other things he referred to the house as the finest institution of the kind in the South-west, and said that it cost a hundred thousand dollars. The Daily Journal speaks flatteringly of Mr. Park's effort, and is lavish in description of the many beauties of the building. Prominent gentlemen of the city also made speeches, including the Mayor.

THE CLUB GERMAN.

The young members of Madison Club gave a delightful German on Thursday night. There were fifteen couples, including Miss Allison of Ohio and Miss Sims of Paris. Tost & Saxtons orchestra was present and rendered their finest music. At midnight an intermission occurred, and refreshments were served. The Club affords many attractions for an entertainment, owing to its excellent dancing floor, elegant parlors and spacious rooms generally.

Resigned.

Prof. W. D. McClintock, pastor of the Christian Church of this place, offered his resignation on last Sunday. He has been elected Registrar of the Chautauqua University and the call came in such a way that he felt he could not decline it. Hence the resignation of his charge here and his labors here have been all pleasant and profitable and it is with sincere regret on the part of both pastor and congregation and the community generally that his connection is to be severed and his labors transferred to another field. His pulpit will be supplied temporarily until a regular pastor can be had.

Property Sold.

Z. E. Bush, Auctioneer, reports sale of the executors of Jacob Hugely, Sr., as follows: Large crowd. Household goods sold well. Horses, $25 to $30; one mule $10; nine cows at $20 to $30; four cows with young calves, $32 to $42; nine short 2-year-old cattle $50; five long yearlings, $33; eight stout yearlings, $25 to $27.50; weaning calves, $12; yearling heifers, $20; heifers, $41.25 per hundred; "chickens, and a lot of other goods," 16 cents apiece; wheat, 75 cents.

At the public sale of John F. White's assignee, the Silver Creek mill, with 23 acres of land sold to Mrs. R. L. Breck for $4,025. The residence with 44 acres was bought by George F. White for $3,850. Four hundred acres were withdrawn, the bids not being satisfactory.

The sales of real estate advertised by C. B. McCord and C. M. Taylor for last Saturday, did not take place. One day last week, Judge John D. Goodloe sold his Walnut Meadow farm of 228 acres to J. G. Galloway, for $4,000.

PERSONAL.

Col. John K. Faulkner is ill.

Miss Parrish, of Fayette, is visiting her cousin Miss Margaret Parrish, this place.

Mr. G. Sam Roberts, of Philadelphia, was in Richmond, last week, looking just the same, if not more so.

Dr. Welby Burgin has gone to the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, to finish his course in dentistry.

Mr. Lewis Todd, who has been ill with malarial fever for three weeks past, is recovering and will be out in a few days.

Miss Lila Chennell and Mr. W. B. Bright attended the Chennell-Cockrell wedding at Mt. Sterling last Wednesday.

Maj. A. J. Reed and wife are in Louisville, the former attending the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, and the latter visiting her mother.

Messrs. W. B. White, W. H. Smith, James Tevis, Abner Plaster, and Dr. L. H. Frantz are in Louisville attending the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Elder Parsons, of Station Camp, was in Richmond on Monday, returning from the Baptist jubilee in Louisville. He said it was a remarkably fine gathering.

Mr. Richard Clark, recently clerk of Dr. Herndon's drug store, writes from Omaha that Prof. P. H. Sullivan has taken charge of a good school in that city.

The delegates to the Masonic Grand Lodge returned last week. They were: Richmond Chapter, Mr. W. F. Francis; Richmond Lodge, Mr. R. C. Stockton; Foxtown, Mr. Wm. Bennett; Union, Mr. John Hill; Vaco, Mr. D. G. Martin; Kingston, Mr. J. M. Boen; Berea, Mr. W. M. Adams; Kirkville, Mr. J. Hume Emory.

BORN.

On Sunday, October 23, to the wife of T. T. Dozier, a girl—Mary Holton.

DIED.

William Harvey, infant of James and Lizzie Allman, died of cholera infantum, in Richmond, on Tuesday, October 18, 1887, aged 13 months.

MATRIMONIAL.

John Garrison and Miss Ella Snowden, daughter of Charles Snowden, were married on Thursday, October 20, 1887, Eld. A. J. Tribble officiating.

Miss Katie Friend, of Irvine, who has often visited in Richmond, will be married next week to Rev. Mr. Mann of the Methodist church, that place.

Mr. Wallace Emory, formerly of this county, and a brother of Dr. Heath, was recently married in Louisville to Miss Desuenerby. It was a triple church wedding, and witnessed by a house full of people.

Mr. Frank Ditt, of Brandenburg, and Mrs. Ellen L. Harris, formerly of this city, were married Oct. 18th at 4 p. m., at the residence of Miss Belle Peers, Chestnut street, Louisville, Ky.

The church was especially decorated with choice roses. Prof. Wayland Graham, of Frankfort, presided at the organ and tendered Mendelssohn's wedding march while the bridal party proceeded from the vestibule to the chancel entrance to the church, as follows: First, the ushers, in couples, followed by two bridesmaids, then came the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father. The ushers took places upon either side of the chancel railing. The bridesmaids took their stand at the left of the altar. The groom, attended by Mr. Andrews, met the bride at the right of the altar, where they were united. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive. After the ceremony the bridal party, together with a large number of friends, repaired to the home of Senator Blackburn, on Rose Hill, where an elegant reception was held until 1 o'clock.

RELIGIOUS.

Elder J. R. James will preach at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock A. M., next Sunday, October 30.

The new Christian church at Speedwell will be dedicated on next Sunday, Elder S. W. Crutcher, of Louisville, officiating.

A protracted meeting began at the Mt. Pleasant church, last Sunday, Prof. C. B. Hagerman, of Madison Female Institute, preaching.

At the recent Lebanon session of Transylvania Presbytery, North, Elder W. H. Wheritt, of Lancaster, formerly of this place, was appointed one of a committee of three to assist Rev. J. L. McKee in his mountain work for a short season.

Mrs. Cleveland, during the summer, walked to church every Sunday morning unaccompanied by the President. She attended the St. Albans Episcopal church, which is a modest frame structure that stands near Oak View, Mr. Cleveland's summer house.

The revival at the Methodist church is progressing with large audiences. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Henderson, is assisted by his son, who is an accomplished young orator, received a medal over six hundred competitors at Vanderbilt, and graduated at that institution. He will continue over Sunday, Mrs. Dr. Bates and daughter, Miss Mollie, have taken membership.

The general Convention of Universalists in session in New York, last week, adopted the following profession of faith:

"I believe that the holy scriptures of the old and new testament contain a revelation from God to mankind, and I believe in one God, the father almighty, maker of heaven and earth; in Jesus Christ, his son, who died for the redemption of the world, and all his holy spirit the comforter, through which all disciples of Christ are united in one spiritual body."

"I believe in the necessity of personal regeneration, in the forgiveness of sins, in the certainty of retribution; in the final holiness and happiness of all mankind."

"I believe that the opportunities, obligations and rewards of religion are in their nature eternal, and of such immediate urgency that I ought to strive earnestly for present salvation by repenting of my sins, and diligently using the means of grace which, in his mercy, God has provided for me."

Rev. Dr. Henderson, the new pastor of the Methodist Church, this place, has been actively engaged in ministerial work for more than thirty-five years. For the past fifteen years he has been stationed at Georgetown, Pa., Cynthiana, Mayville and Harrodsburg. He is one of the ablest men in the Kentucky Conference, resembling in many ways his cousin, the well-known Dr. H. A. M. Henderson. He will doubtless be of that great usefulness here that he has been in the places above mentioned.

Dr. Henderson was born in St. Louis 38 years ago, is a regular graduate of medicine, and was once a successful practitioner. The Doctor's immediate family consists of a wife and grown daughter. They occupy the residence on Second street next to the church.

The Baptists of Kentucky begin a series of jubilee meetings to day in Louisville in commemoration of the formation of the General Association of the Baptists in Kentucky on October 20, 1871. This is therefore the fifth anniversary of the Kentucky Association of Missionary Baptists. The orators of the church call that half century the "Golden Age," and they celebrate its period by a jubilee for the great things they have been enabled to accomplish. Great things may be accomplished there in a spirit of joy rather than idle complaint, and no community of the State is better acquainted therewith than the people of Louisville. For an example of this we can not refrain from mentioning that one of its churches here a few days ago granted a severance to 714 of its members to form another local Baptist church, and retained about twice that number in its fold, though seven years ago the mother church numbered fewer members than it did.—Courier-Journal, 20th.

THE BAPTISTS OF KENTUCKY.

Rev. L. H. Blanton, member, and Prof. Wm. Willson, delegate, have gone to Franklin to attend the 8th annual session of the Synod of Kentucky. The Synod is composed of six Presbyteries and has within its charge one hundred and thirty churches with one hundred and ten ministers, and fifteen thousand communicants. From the history of the Presbyterian Church in Kentucky, the subjoined facts of general interest are taken:

1802. The Synod of Kentucky constituted with three Presbyteries: Transylvania, West Lexington and Washington. First session of the Synod on October 14, 1802. (Baird's Digest, p. 25.)

1810. The Synod of Kentucky (N. S.) constituted at Lexington, Ky., consisting of three Presbyteries.

1825-50. Union of the New School churches within the bounds of the Presbyteries commenced prior below the River, dry-grounds-house. Come one and all and secure bargains. Remember the time and place.

1826. Final action of the Synod with regard to organic union with the Southern General Assembly—referring the matter to the Presbyteries at Louisville, October 16, 1826. (Min. of Synod.)

1850. Union of the Synod with the General Assembly South consummated by all the Presbyteries sending Commissioners, May, 1850. (Min. Presbyteries.)

1870. Plan of union between the Association of Kentucky of Kentucky and the Synod of Kentucky consummated at Paris, Ky., October 13, 1870. (Min. of Synod.)
